8 hours of great music by 10 leading composers

“You’ll never know how the likes of us feel when we hear the tramp of a giant like Beethoven behind us”, Johannes Brahms once said. It took him well over a decade to complete his first symphony. And even then, it was hard to escape Beethoven’s shadow, the conductor Hans von Bülow going so far as to refer to the symphony the year after its premiere as “Beethoven's Tenth”. As was customary amongst composers, Brahms dedicated many works to musicians. His only violin concerto, completed 8 year before his death, is dedicated to a good friend and violin player, Joseph Joachim.

It is one of 23 works included in this compilation, which comprises in total 71 tracks playing more than 8 hours of great music from the Romantic Period.

imagineear has worked with musicologists and experts from the renowned music publisher Classical.com to bring you works of 10 of the leading composers from the Romantic classical period: Brahms, Liszt, Chopin, Tchaikovsky, Mendelssohn, Berlioz, Schumann, Wagner, Mussorgsky and Johann Strauss. Orchestral works, solo concertos, chamber music, piano solos and a sprinkling of arias provide a thorough tour d’horizon of the music composed in this period. The selection will appeal both to classical music lovers and to listeners who are starting to discover the defining musical masterworks of this period.
